Head's message:

Our big things this week were the varied learning experiences with the NSPCC, including an Online Safety workshop for parents, separate assemblies for Key Stage 1 and 2 and more detailed workshops for Years 5 and 6. Year 2 were charmed by tale of a Midsummer's Night Dream from Phil McDermott of Primary Shakespeare Company. Year 2 children from St Vincent and St Mary Magdalene joined the storytelling experience. Phil stayed on to give Year 3 and 4 a taste of Shakespeare's tales. Year 3 worked with Tate Britain as part of Steve McQueen's Year 3 photo project. We had our first DEAR session, when everyone in the school simply Drops Everything and Reads for enjoyment. Staff training included an interesting presentation from our Educational Psychologist team on ADHD, Poms Praise, EYFS Moderation (we hosted this here for our cluster group of schools). The school office was inundated with Reception applications for next year's intake – in a time of national falling rolls our school remains as popular as ever.

We welcome Ms Kuster, a Swiss trainee teacher, to Year 2 for a four week placement.

Thank you to parents who already begun to make library book donations. We have an arrangement with Belgravia Books in Ebury street who will keep a list of the books needed. Your child's name and Year group will be commemorated on a sticker inside the book.

Finally, could I once again stress the importance of observing the In/Out entrances to the playground. This is for the safety of children and the convenience of all families.

Best wishes,

Miles Ridley
