Head's message:

In terms of trips or visits, this week was a relatively quiet week at St Peter's. Year 2 worked with Neil Carter, the Primary Shakespeare Company director, on their scenes from A Midsummer's Night Dream. This was a follow up from last week's storytelling, which everyone thoroughly enjoyed. The whole school took part in the sponsored Dance-a-thon today; the NSPCC will let us know how much the event has raised to support the valuable service the NSPCC performs in keeping children safe. Eleanor Martlew, our literacy advisor, worked with Year 6 teachers and the SLT on maintaining and further developing the quality of writing. Staff training included adult first aid and pupil progress and assessment tracking.

The annual Holocaust Memorial Day falls on Sunday 27 January this year. There are many events across the capital on the day and we will commemorate it the Monday morning assembly.

I am keen to establish closer links with Westminster City School and would encourage parents of Year 5 boys to visit the school. We are interested in some of the music, art and science link programmes they are developing with primary schools. The WCS orchestra will be performing at St Peter's Church on the evening of 31 January and Peter Broughton, Head, has extended an open invitation (see attached flyer).

Best wishes, Miles
