The Head's Lines

Another week has passed and Friday is once again upon us! It has certainly been a very big week with events happening around the world and, of course, the lockdown that came into place throughout the United Kingdom, yesterday! It is very pleasing that we are able to continue to open for pupils and attendance at school has been very encouraging. Equally, we are very grateful to parents and carers for taking necessary precautions where children or families have become unwell. Please do speak to us if you are unsure, as we are always here to listen and can seek further advice and clarification when we do not have the answers to hand. There are often so many complexities around each individual situation and with the guidance changing continuously, it is much better for us to work together to keep everybody safe.

Next week is Maths week which will be very exciting! Until then, have a restful weekend and remember to follow the Peter's Way of keeping safe!

Social Distancing

As we are now in an official lockdown, please may we remind parents to adhere to social distancing outside of the school gates. We would, once again, remind everybody to only arrive at the designated times for collection and pick up. This will ensure that space is maximised and is in the interests everybody's safety.

Channels of Communication

We like to hear your views and discuss your concerns. In the present climate, this can be much more challenging as we are more reliant on technologies, such as emails and telephones. If you do have any concerns or ideas, please always speak to the class teacher, via email contact to the school office, in the first instance. If your issue cannot be resolved after discussing it with the class teacher, then please arrange an appointment to speak with a member the senior leadership team. Sometimes, we realise it may not be appropriate to discuss your concerns at the school gate, so staff will always be able to communicate with you via an email or phone call, particularly if your matter is of a sensitive nature.

We are also always available to support families who may be struggling in the current lockdown situation and will endeavour to support you or signpost you to an appropriate organisation or resource to help. We are a community and have to work together in these challenging times. Please do not suffer in silence. We are here for you!

Active Awards

As part of our Going for Gold celebrations, we would usually welcome any active awards that have been achieved both inside and outside of school. This might be something that has been achieved at a club or could even be a sponsored challenge that somebody has completed. With families having to be creative with their time over the next few weeks, we would be delighted to hear about any activities you participate in. Whether you learn to ride a bike, complete a 10km walk with your household, take up yoga in the front room, commit to doing a range of extra household chores each day, please tell us about it and we will celebrate this in our Active Awards at the end of the term.

Lockdown Challenge Number 1

At the end of each week, throughout the lockdown, we will be setting a lockdown challenge which families can choose to participate in.

This weekend's lockdown challenge is to create your own card game, using a standard deck of cards. You may use other resources if you wish. You will need a set of rules which you can use to teach the game to others.
