

The St Peter's Communicator

Together, we will realise the potential God has given us

20th November 2020 Issue 7

The Head's Lines

As the days got colder and we wrapped up warmer, another week flew by at the land of St Peter's. Having, hopefully, passed the half way point of this lockdown, I must ask everybody within our community to congratulate themselves on the resilience shown to keep positive and carry on.

This week, I have been delighted to see some of the creations of some aspiring authors! Rudy in 2B and Isabella in 1B have both written their own books. Not only were their stories brilliant, but their illustrations and presentation were of a superb standard, too! It is always such a delight to see pupils who have made an exceptional effort with their work. Both Rudy and Isabella are certainly going for gold and showing our school vision of reaching their potential. Well done and keep up the excellent effort!

Have a restful weekend and keep warm!

Allergy Reminder

Please may we take this opportunity to remind everybody that St Peter's is a nut free school. This means that any foods containing traces of nut are not permitted, under any circumstances, on the school premises. This includes all break time snacks and items in lunch boxes.

With members of our school community having severe allergies, the consequences of coming into contact with items of food containing nuts are potentially very serious and can be life threatening. Please check food labelling carefully.

New Arrival: baby Fell

We are delighted to update you with the news that Mrs Fell has given birth to baby Freddie. Freddie arrived earlier this month, two weeks early! All of the Fell family are doing brilliantly and are enjoying their time with Freddie. We wish them all the very best and look forward to meeting Freddie very soon.

The St Peter's Way in Action

It has been wonderful to see so many pupils following the St Peter's Way around school: from showing great kindness by their warm and friendly greetings around the building, to looking after and making sure everybody is included. This is very positive and really makes such a difference. Let's continue to show these excellent manners as they cost nothing but mean everything. Well done to all of the pupils of St Peter's.

Lockdown Challenge Number 3

At the end of each week, throughout the lockdown, we will be setting a lockdown challenge which families can choose to participate in.

This week's lockdown challenge is to go on a winter walk. With the crisp mornings and bright wintery afternoons, this could be a great time to get outside with other members of your household bubble and enjoy some fresh air. As part of this lockdown challenge, we will be holding a photography competition. You may submit one snap that encapsulates the joys of a winter's day in London. So why not get outside into the fresh air this week and see what beautiful sights you can see? Please send your entries into school by next Friday.

A song by Anna (Year 2 Yellow)

Last week's lockdown challenge was to write a Christmas song. Anna, Year 2 Yellow, has risen to this challenge and has written a short song, inspired by the forces of nature. A great effort, Anna. Here is your song:

Oh-oh ooooh everyone
I see the ocean wide
I feel, I feel like an eel
Sometimes I do electric
Shocks. I know that it scares
People. The mountains are wide
And I am alive. Oh-oh-oh
I see the stars and it is Christmas! So I want you to
Be happy, so reach for
The stars so the stars
Shine on you so you!
